

What does the Pledge of Allegiance Mean?

I Pledge allegiance means to make a promise.

To the flag of the United States of America means we are making a promise to our country.

And to the republic for which it stands means the people who are Americans living in our country.

One nation, under God, indivisible means all the American people are one group and we cannot be broken up.

With liberty means we are free to make our own choices in this country.

And justice for all means to be fair and have the same rules for everyone.
