Crime Prevention

Crime prevention is everyone's business. In order to keep our neighborhoods safe we must all take an active role to observe and report suspicious activities. Door to door soliciting should always be considered a suspicious activity if the solicitor is not following Euclid's ordinances, or you feel the person is not legitimate.

Criminals like to imitate door to door soliciting to blend into a neighborhood. This gives them time to check out unoccupied houses and find entry points. Be alert to such activities as adults and children who are looking for yard work, selling from plastic tubs, or asking for donations. Although many non-profit and religious solicitors are from valid organizations, the criminals are blending in and using this as a tool to steal from you!

If door to door solicitation is happening in your neighborhood, and something doesn't feel right, immediately contact the Euclid Police Department at 216-731-1234.
